KEYED PADLOCK RANGE 2023

Padlocks for all applications

ABUS Keyed Padlocks – Padlocks for all Applications

ABUS have been manufacturing padlocks since 1924 and are one of the global leaders in the padlock industry, offering a vast range of padlock types suitable for any and every application possible. The ABUS Padlock range offers security solutions for everything, from luggage and lockers, through to high security applications on perimeter fencing, gates, containers and even mobile equipment such as bikes.

How do I know which Padlock is right for what I need?

ABUS have developed a unique Configurator Tool to help you find the right padlock for your application.

Click here to use the padlock configurator

What do I need to consider when choosing the right padlock?

There are many things to consider when selecting a padlock for a particular application, security level being the most important consideration of course. Ultimately, where the padlock will be is critical. Will it be for indoor use, where weather proofing is not a factor but the size of the product will determine your selection? Will it be for general outdoor use where a traditional brass padlock might be suitable? Will the padlock be exposed to more harsh conditions such as a marine environment where sea water is a factor? Then there is usage frequency and key management. Will the padlock be used by multiple people and how many times will it be used each day or week for example.

For decades the ABUS brand has been synonymous with padlocks of a wide variety of designs. A well-established product range that is designed for the needs of international markets underlines our worldwide expertise in this field.

In a recent publication about German products with a worldwide reputation, ABUS was praised as being a synonym for "The Security Lock". ABUS padlocks enjoy a good reputation, all around the globe.

Indoor or Outdoor

Aluminium padlocks are suitable for a wide range of applications. They are handy, lightweight and provide good protection, also offering a wide variety of colours such as blue, red, purple, green, orange or yellow. An great solution for indoor lockers or schools and colleges where the colour might form part of the key management system. There are even padlocks that can be inscribed with someone's name or identification code.

Brass is one of the most common materials for padlocks because it can never rust. Therefore, brass padlocks can be found in many different places all around the world and especially in outdoor applications.

Our brass range of padlocks offers different sizes and shapes for a variety of applications.

Marine Applications and Coastal Areas

Marine padlocks are specially designed for outdoor use, with many models suitable for exposure to excessive salt water. They are 100% rust-free, and guarantee high security even in harsh weather conditions. Suitable weather-resistant materials such as stainless steel or appropriate plastic coatings protect the padlock effectively in outdoor areas.

Industrial Safety

ABUS offers a broad range of Lockout/Tagout products for creating safe environments for maintenance schedules in large manufacturing facilities for example. The padlock is at the heart of these solutions. This range of padlocks are developed especially for industrial and occupational security. They are lightweight and ideal for securing machines, equipment, doors, cabinets or containers. The range offers non-conductive solutions for electrical environments. Also available in various colours that allow for colour coordination to distinguish between workspaces, employees or responsibilities.

High Security

The ABUS padlock range offers a perfect combination of high security, high quality, strength, attack resistance, and marine grade protection for a wide variety of applications. Whether the requirement is for high security perimeter protection, safe guarding remote locations or protecting access to coastal environments, providing a balance between physical strength and weather protection is our core focus.

Key Control

The ABUS padlock range offers a broad range of solutions when it comes to key management. Padlocks can be manufactured as part of a master key system, where it is possible to integrate your padlock range with a cylinder locking or access control system. Depending on the application, a padlock can offer a key retaining function. A common application for this might be in container or transport security where it is important that a key is managed or not lost. If the padlock is 'key retaining' it will hold the key in place while the shackle is open and only release it once it is securely locked.

ABUS quality

The ABUS guarantee covers the product against any faulty material or manufacture. It expressly does not cover the use of the lock where it was not intended, chemical, criminal damage or neglect. To clarify, the ABUS guarantee does not cover locks used in or near chemicals or salt water, power tool or hand tool damage, or failure due to lack of lubrication.

In the event of a warranty claim please first contact the supplier from where the lock was purchased. To ensure we maintain quality of the highest standards and trace the cause of possible malfunction ABUS will need to see and examine every warranty claim prior to any potential repair, replacement or credit.

ABUS Global Protection System

The ABUS Global Protection System is a number rating system indicating padlock level of security from 1 being the lower end to 10 which is the highest level of security.

ABUS padlock KA and MK Suites

For details of padlocks that can be made up to a sample key or for details of specific KA and MK suites available across the padlock range, please contact the ABUS UK sales office.

ABUS Service and Support

ABUS UK provides support on its quality range of locks in both advice and service. Many items from the flagship GRANIT™ through to the pre-assembled 83 series padlocks, can be made available Master Keyed (MK), Keyed Alike (KA), and/or assembled to an existing sample key. All special orders for non standard or non stock items, once confirmed cannot be returned if no longer required.

ABUS Research and Development

Due to ABUS' policy of continual product improvement, the code, specification and price given in this catalogue must be seen as correct at the time of printing, E&OE.

ABUS reserves the right to amend code, specification and price.

ABUS TOUCH™ 57

GO TO PRICE LIST

A fingerprint is all it takes to open your ABUS Touch™ 57 padlock. Quick, convenient and safe.

Make your life a little easier and secure your bike shed or locker with the ABUS Touch™ 57 weatherproof fingerprint lock. Just touch it and the lock opens. The 360°-capable sensor identifies up to 20 programmed-in fingerprints from any position – no matter how they are placed on it. Registering the fingerprints is super fast. As one of two administrators, simply place your own, already registered finger on the fingerprint sensor for three seconds and “Register mode” is activated. Keeping it there for ten seconds triggers the “Delete mode” setting. Accidentally deleting the prints is therefore virtually impossible. The lock is equipped with a replaceable CR2 battery. And the stored fingerprints are retained even after replacing the battery. With the hardened steel shackle and thanks to the double ball locking, your property is secured in the best possible way with a medium risk of theft. From now on, misplaced keys are a thing of the past.

We offer bespoke and personalised engraving for Padlocks and Keys. Engraving padlocks can enable the end-user to easily identify the owner, the application, the location or perhaps the business. We are able to engrave simple text such as letters for someone's name as well as a range of symbols and even company logos.

There is a simple price guide below that sets out our pricing levels for engraving letters or logos/symbols on to the face or side of the padlock or key for example. The prices quoted are per area or per side. We highlight that there is an initial set up fee, which is a one-off charge and then you just pay per side. The set up charges are to cover the cost of setting up our tooling and design time, which is higher when specific company logos are required.

ABUS Combination Padlocks – Keyless Security

Combination Padlocks are a great alternative to a conventional padlock that normally requires a key.

This type of padlock is commonly used in the leisure and travel markets, for securing mobile equipment such as bicycles or for safeguarding luggage or gym lockers and can be supplied in various models, with varying degrees of suitability and finish such as standard brass, all weather, marine grade and heavy duty, high security padlocks for industrial environments.

How does a Combination Padlock work?

A combination lock is a type of locking device in which a sequence of symbols, usually numbers, is used to open the lock. The sequence may be entered using a single rotating dial which interacts with several discs or cams, by using a set of rotating discs which directly interact with the locking mechanism. Unlike ordinary padlocks, combination locks do not use keys.

Why go keyless?

In some environments and applications a security product that does not require a key is an ideal solution. In some remote industrial applications, managing the use of keys across multiple employees or multiple sites can be a costly and inefficient process. In mobile applications and for padlocks with high usage, a keyless solution provides an easy to manage, flexible and low cost alternative to a conventional lock and key.

Heavy Duty

For high usage or industrial applications, products such as the ABUS 158 Super Code offer a robust general-purpose combination padlock with a body made of die-cast zinc and a shackle made of hardened steel. Ideal for a wide range of commercial applications such as locking doors, gates, containers, outbuildings, construction equipment, switchgear and much more. Depending on padlock size these products have 3,4 or 5 number dials for the lock combination.

Marine Grade

For all-weather and for applications exposed to harsh environments such as in coastal areas, products such as the ABUS 180IB/50 Nautilus combination padlock is ideal. The padlock body is made of forged brass and with a stainless steel shackle this padlock is built to withstand high winds and harsh weather. The position of the number dials provides additional protection against rain whilst at the same time being easily accessible.

All Round Combination Padlocks

Padlocks such as the ABUS 165 myCode offer all-round combination padlocks made of brass with steel shackles. Suitable for locking luggage, cases, cupboards, lockers. These products, usually offering either a 3 or 4 number combination code can be supplied in a variety of sizes, finishes and with varying shackle dimensions.

Leisure – Combination Padlocks

ABUS provides a range of smaller combination padlocks, ideal for leisure use whether it's for securing mobile equipment such as bikes, boats or garden furniture or for safeguarding luggage, sports bags, equipment or gym lockers. These padlocks can be supplied in a wide variety of finishes and colours.

How do I know which Padlock is right for what I need?

ABUS have developed a unique Configurator Tool to help you find the right padlock for your application

ABUS quality

The ABUS guarantee covers the product against any faulty material or manufacture. It expressly does not cover the use of the lock where it was not intended, chemical, criminal damage or neglect. To clarify, the ABUS guarantee does not cover locks used in or near chemicals or salt water, power tool or hand tool damage, or failure due to lack of lubrication.

In the event of a warranty claim please first contact the supplier from where the lock was purchased. To ensure we maintain quality of the highest standards and trace the cause of possible malfunction ABUS will need to see and examine every warranty claim prior to any potential repair, replacement or credit.

ABUS Global Protection System

The ABUS Global Protection System is a number rating system indicating padlock level of security from 1 being the lower end to 10 which is the highest level of security.
